APPLICATION

2. This Regulation applies to new light duty motor vehicles manufactured after the commencement of the 1971 model year and sold, offered or exposed for sale to or used by the ultimate purchaser who is a resident of Ontario.

EXEMPTIONS

3. The classes and types of new motor vehicles exempt from this Regulation are,

- (a) a motor vehicle having a motor vehicle engine that has an engine displacement of less than fifty cubic inches;
- (b) a motor vehicle that has a gross vehicle weight of more than 6,000 pounds;

- (f) a new light duty motor vehicle that uses fuel other than gasoline or compressed or liquefied hydrocarbons for motive power;
- (g) new light duty motor vehicles having new light duty motor vehicle engines of a specified engine displacement of which not more than fifty such new light duty motor vehicles having new light duty motor vehicle engines are sold or delivered in Ontario in any model year; or
- (h) any new light duty motor vehicle, having a new light duty motor vehicle engine, forming part of a manufacturer's total annual sales volume in Ontario, where such total annual sales volume does not exceed 100 new light duty motor vehicle engines.

EVAPORATIVE EMISSIONS

4.—(1) For the purposes of this section,

- (a) where the records of a manufacturer of his sales in Ontario of new light duty motor vehicles in any year are not available or are inadequate for the selection of new light duty motor vehicles and new light duty motor vehicle engines for a model year for testing under subsection 5, the manufacturer shall make selections of new light duty motor vehicles and new light duty motor vehicle engines on the basis of his total sales of new light duty motor vehicles and new light duty motor vehicle engines; or
- (b) where any motor vehicle manufacturer is subject to the terms and conditions of the Canada-U.S. Automotive Products Trade Agreement, he may, when selecting new light duty motor vehicles and new light duty motor vehicle engines for a model year for testing under subsection 5, base his selection on the records of his sales for the area covered by the Agreement.

(2) Where a new light duty motor vehicle is tested prior to the application by a manufacturer for approval to sell new light duty motor vehicles in Ontario, the evaporative emissions from such motor vehicle shall not exceed 6 grams of hydrocarbons per test.

(3) The requirements of subsection 2 apply to a composite value calculated under subsection 7 from results obtained in tests of evaporative emissions from the operation of the new light duty motor vehicles in accordance with the test procedures set out in paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 of subsection 5.

(4) Where the composite value calculated under subsection 7 for a new light duty motor vehicle having a new light duty motor vehicle engine of a specified engine displacement does not exceed the amount of hydrocarbon evaporative emissions set out in subsection 2, every new light duty motor vehicle having a new light duty motor vehicle engine of that specified engine displacement shall be deemed to comply with the requirements of subsection 2.

(5) Procedures for selecting, testing and inspecting evaporative emission control systems or devices installed on or incorporated in new light duty motor vehicles to prevent or lessen the emission into the outdoor atmosphere of evaporative emissions from the operation of such new light duty motor vehicles, shall be as follows:

1. Where a manufacturer of new light duty motor vehicles and new light duty motor vehicle engines intends to sell, offer or expose for sale in any model year a new light duty motor vehicle having a new light duty motor vehicle engine, he shall select, from his manufacture of such light duty motor vehicles and light duty motor vehicle engines, for testing of evaporative emissions,

- (a) at least two such new light duty motor vehicles having new light duty motor vehicle engines of the same engine displacement; and
- (b) where the probable sales volume of new light duty motor vehicles having new light duty motor vehicle engines of a specified engine displacement will account for at least one-half of one per cent of the total number of new light duty motor vehicles sold in Ontario in the latest preceding model year of the manufacturer for which sales records in Ontario are available, at least four new light duty motor vehicles having new light duty motor vehicle engines of the same engine displacement, but in no case shall the total number of new light duty motor vehicles having new light duty motor vehicle engines be fewer than four.

2. The combinations of new light duty motor vehicles and new light duty motor vehicle engines selected under paragraph 1 and used for the testing of evaporative emissions shall be those combinations usually produced for sale by the manufacturer and shall be equipped as nearly as possible with transmission and carburetors in proportion to the number of comparable new light duty motor vehicles so equipped in the latest preceding model year of the manufacturer for which his sales records in Ontario are available.

3. Each new light duty motor vehicle having a new light duty motor vehicle engine selected for testing under paragraph 1 for amounts of evaporative emissions shall be driven a distance of at least 4,000 miles with all evaporative emission control systems or devices installed and operating and tests shall then be made for the amounts of evaporative emissions as described in paragraph 4.
4. Each test shall consist of three parts which shall be performed in sequence and without any interruption between each part, by,
 - (a) installing previously weighed hydrocarbon vapour collection devices on all fuel system external vents, then heating, by artificial means, the fuel in the tank of the new light duty motor vehicle to a temperature of between 82 and 86 degrees Fahrenheit over a period of not less than 50 minutes and not more than 70 minutes, after which time the new light duty motor vehicle shall be moved on to a dynamometer;
 - (b) running the new light duty motor vehicle on a dynamometer and the motor vehicle engine for each test being run from a cold start through nine identical testing cycles without stalling of the new light duty motor vehicle engine and with each cycle lasting 137 seconds and consisting of a series of periods of acceleration, deceleration, steady speeds and idling; and
 - (c) permitting the new light duty motor vehicle to stand for a period of one hour at an ambient temperature between 76 and 86 degrees Fahrenheit, after which time the hydrocarbon vapour collection devices shall be removed from the vehicle and sealed.
5. The evaporative emissions referred to in paragraph 3 shall be obtained by re-weighing the previously weighed hydrocarbon vapour collection devices and the increase of weight of such devices shall be recorded in respect of each new light duty motor vehicle so that a value, expressed as grams of hydrocarbons per test, is obtained for that vehicle and engine for the purposes of subsection 7.
6. In addition to the selection of new light duty motor vehicles having new light duty motor vehicle engines for testing of evaporative emissions under paragraphs 2 to 5, the manufacturer shall select not fewer than four and not more than twelve new light duty motor vehicles for tests of durability of the evaporative emission control systems or devices and in the selection he shall have regard to the combinations of engine displacements and transmissions, including automatic and manual transmission installations, so that his selections represent at least 70 per cent of the number of new light duty motor vehicles sold by the manufacturer in Ontario during his latest preceding model year for which his sales records in Ontario are available, but where his records show that the total number of new light duty motor vehicles sold by him in Ontario is less than 10 per cent of the total sales in Ontario of all new light duty motor vehicles of all manufacturers, the combinations shall be so chosen that the number of new light duty motor vehicles tested for durability of the evaporative emission control systems or devices shall be not fewer than four and not more than eight and shall represent at least 50 per cent of the number of new light duty motor vehicles sold by the manufacturer during such model year.
7. Every new light duty motor vehicle having a new light duty motor vehicle engine selected under paragraph 6 shall be driven a distance of at least 50,000 miles and tested in the manner referred to in paragraph 4, the tests to be carried out on each new light duty motor vehicle at intervals of not more than 4,000 miles, and the results from such tests shall be recorded.
8. From the results recorded under paragraph 7, a value shall be calculated for the evaporative emissions during each test for each 4,000 mile interval for each new light duty motor vehicle in the manner described in paragraph 5 and the representative values thus obtained shall be used in the calculation of the factor mentioned in subsection 7.
 - (6) Where recording is made in this section of results of tests for amounts of evaporative emissions in respect of any new light duty motor vehicle having a new light duty motor vehicle engine, a composite value shall be determined under subsection 7 for each engine displacement, which composite value takes into account factors of deterioration in efficiency of the evaporative emission control system or device installed thereon or incorporated therein, resulting from the use of that new light duty motor vehicle and new light duty motor vehicle engine, in accordance with the procedure under subsection 7.
 - (7) The procedure for the calculation of the composite value of the evaporative emissions of each new light duty motor vehicle tested shall be as follows:
 1. For each combination of exhaust emission control system or device and evaporative emission control system or device, an evaporative emission deterioration factor shall be determined by using the results obtained from the relevant new light duty motor vehicles and new light duty motor vehicle engines tested under paragraphs 7 and 8 of subsection 5 by,
 - (a) plotting a graph for each combination of exhaust emission control system or device and evaporative emission control system or device of vehicle mileage against the evaporative emission values obtained in the tests under paragraphs 7 and 8 of subsection 5;
 - (b) drawing a straight line, by the method of least squares, as near as possible to the points plotted on each graph; and
 - (c) calculating the deterioration factor in respect of evaporative emissions for deterioration in efficiency for each combination of exhaust emission control system or device and evaporative emission control system or device in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Factor} = \frac{\text{evaporative emissions interpolated to 50,000 miles} - \text{evaporative emissions interpolated to 4,000 miles}}{\text{evaporative emissions interpolated to 50,000 miles} - \text{evaporative emissions interpolated to 4,000 miles}}$$
 2. The evaporative emission test results from each new light duty motor vehicle tested under paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 of subsection 5 shall be added to the appropriate factor determined in paragraph 1 of this subsection for the particular engine displacement of that new light duty motor vehicle.

3. For each engine displacement, the results obtained in paragraph 2 for each new light duty motor vehicle in that engine displacement class shall be weighted in proportion to the projected sales of the new light duty motor vehicles represented by each test vehicle.
4. For each engine displacement, the weighted results obtained in paragraph 3 shall be averaged.
5. For each engine displacement, the evaporative emissions to be compared with the standard, referred to in subsection 2, shall be the averaged value for evaporative emissions obtained under paragraph 4 of this subsection.

 - (i) a weather-proof hood, or

- (ii) venting devices that normally remain closed except when subjected to pressure or vacuum; and

(c) be fabricated or equipped with devices so that abnormal internal pressures in the tank that might rupture the shell or bottom will be relieved.

(17) A battery of tanks containing gasoline or associated products of the same class may be individually vented into a common header.

(18) Where a common header is used under subsection 17,

(a) the common header shall be at least one pipe size larger than the largest individual vent pipe connected to it;

- (b) forward full details to the Department within forty-eight hours of receiving the report from the operator or other person.

(45) Subject to subsection 46, at all times when a bulk plant that is required to be fenced is not in actual operation, or is without the attendance of any person competent to undertake operations, all gates and other modes of ingress shall be securely closed and locked and in a bulk plant that is not fenced, all tank valves or end-of-line valves in the plant shall be securely fastened in the closed position by locks.

(46) Subsection 45 does not apply to remotely controlled bulk plants, nor does the locking of valves required by subsection 45 apply in those plants where shutting off and locking of the electrical power effectively prevents the withdrawal of product.

(47) Tank vehicle and tank car loading or unloading facilities shall be separated from above ground tanks and buildings by a distance of ten feet measured horizontally.

(48) Equipment, including piping, pumps, and meters, used for the transfer of Class I liquids between storage tanks and the loading rack facilities shall not be used for the transfer of Class II or Class III liquids.

THE CHILD WELFARE ACT, 1965

O. Reg. 83/70.

General.

Made—February 19th, 1970.

Filed—February 23rd, 1970.

REGULATION MADE UNDER THE CHILD WELFARE ACT, 1965

1.—(1) Section 27 of Ontario Regulation 271/65 is amended by adding "and" at the end of clause a and by striking out "and" at the end of clause b.

(2) Clause c of the said section 27 is revoked.

2. Ontario Regulation 271/65, as amended by Ontario Regulations 392/66 and 92/67, is further amended by adding thereto the following section:

27*a*. The judge shall cause to be transmitted to the Director a certified copy of each order made under clause c of section 25 of the Act or under subsection 1 or subsection 2 of section 31 of the Act.

3. Section 38 of Ontario Regulation 271/65 is revoked and the following substituted therefor:

38.—(1) The consent of the Director under subsection 3 of section 73 of the Act to the adoption of a child who is a Crown ward shall be in Form 25 and the affidavit of execution shall be in the form endorsed thereon.

(2) Where a child who is not a Crown ward has been placed for adoption, the consent of every person who is required under the Act to consent to the adoption of the child shall be in Form 25*a*, and the signature of the person consenting shall be witnessed by an officer of a children's aid society authorized for the purpose and the affidavit of execution shall be in the form endorsed thereon.

4. Ontario Regulation 271/65, as amended by Ontario Regulations 392/66 and 92/67, is further amended by adding thereto the following section:

42*a*. A notice of intention to adopt a Crown ward under section 31 of the Act shall be in Form 30 and shall be given to the children's aid society having care of the child by delivering it to the local director of the society or to the society officer who witnesses the signature of the person giving the notice.

5. Form 10 of Ontario Regulation 271/65 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following Note:

NOTE

To the Parents or Custodians

Hearings under The Child Welfare Act, 1965 are held in the Provincial Court (Family Division). They are not open to the public and the press except with the leave of the judge.

You are, of course, entitled to your own legal advisor at the hearing. If you feel you cannot afford to retain a legal advisor you should apply to the nearest Legal Aid Office to discuss the matter. If you, as the parent or custodian, are not twenty-one years of age, the Court will appoint a guardian ad litem to protect your interests at the time of the hearing.

The judge at the hearing may make one of several orders respecting your child, whether or not you are present, namely,

(a) he may dismiss the application;

(b) he may adjourn it;

(c) he may adjourn it and require the children's aid society to supervise the child in your home;

(d) he may order the child to be made a ward of the society for a temporary period of time not exceeding twelve months and such order may be reviewed from time to time but in no case shall an order be made that results in the child being a ward of the society for a continuous period of more than twenty-four months; or

(e) he may order the child to be made a ward of the Crown.

The judge may order you to pay an amount of $1.50 per day for part of the cost of maintaining the child in the care of the children's aid society where any of the foregoing orders results in the Society assuming the care of the child.

As an agent of the Province, the children's aid society having the care of wards assumes the rights and responsibilities of a legal guardian for any child who becomes a ward by an order of the Court. The Society may place a Crown ward on adoption.

Any order of the judge made at the hearing may be appealed to a county or district court judge within thirty days of the making of the order. At the appeal hearing new evidence may be presented and further points of law raised.

In the event that your child has been made a Crown ward and you, at some future time, wish the child returned because of changes in your circumstances or for other reasons, you should ask your local children's aid society if it will apply to the Court for termination of the Crown wardship and the return of the child to you, or you may apply yourself to the Provincial Court (Family Division) for such termination. TERMINATION WILL NOT BE GRANTED IF THIRTY DAYS HAVE EXPIRED FROM THE DATE OF THE ORDER OF CROWN WARDSHIP AND THE SOCIETY HAS ALREADY PLACED THE CHILD ON ADOPTION.

If you are confused or uncertain about your rights, your child's rights, procedures of the Court, or any other matter related to the hearing, wardship, access to your child or visiting arrangements should he go into the care of the society, discuss it fully before the date of the hearing with your children's aid society, legal advisor or an official of the Court.

(3) Where the air pollution index reaches the number 32, designated as Air Advisory Level, and meteorological forecasts indicate a six hour prolongation of atmospheric conditions conducive to sustained or increased air pollution levels, the Minister may require owners or operators of sources of air pollution to make preparation for the curtailment of such operations as are specified by the Minister.

(4) Where the air pollution index reaches the number 50, designated as First Air Pollution Alert, and meteorological forecasts indicate a six hour prolongation of atmospheric conditions conducive to sustained or increased air pollution levels, the Minister may require owners or operators of sources of air pollution to curtail such operations as are specified by the Minister.

CONTROL OF AIR CONTAMINANTS

5.—(1) The standards for concentrations of air contaminants from stationary sources of air pollution at a point of impingement are prescribed in Schedule 1.

(3) No person shall operate or cause to be operated any stationary source of air pollution in a manner that does not comply with the standards prescribed in Schedule 1.

6. No person shall cause or permit to be caused the emission of any air contaminant to such extent or degree as may,

- (a) cause discomfort to persons;
- (b) cause loss of enjoyment of normal use of property;
- (c) interfere with normal conduct of business; or
- (d) cause damage to property.

7.—(1) The Department shall prepare a chart to be known as the "Smoke Density Chart of the Province of Ontario".

(2) The smoke density chart shall be prepared by the recording, in five consecutive areas on the chart, of fine black dots or lines evenly spaced on a white background in such manner that,

- (a) approximately 20 per cent of the space in the first area is black, such area to be designated density No. 1;

(b) approximately 40 per cent of the space in the second area is black, such area to be designated density No. 2;

(c) approximately 60 per cent of the space in the third area is black, such area to be designated density No. 3;

(d) approximately 80 per cent of the space in the fourth area is black, such area to be designated density No. 4; and

(e) approximately 100 per cent of the space in the fifth area is black, such area to be designated density No. 5.

(3) For the purpose of enforcing the Act and this Regulation, no person other than a provincial officer shall determine smoke density by a smoke density chart.

(4) Where the density or opacity of smoke is determined, the smoke is deemed to be of the density on the smoke density chart that it most closely resembles and to have the density number designated on the chart for such density.

8.—(1) Subject to subsections 2 and 3, no person shall cause or permit to be caused the emission of smoke having a density or opacity greater than density No. 1.

9. Where at any stationary source of air pollution a failure to operate in the normal manner or a change in operating conditions occurs, or a shut-down of the source or part thereof is made for some purpose, resulting in the emission of air contaminants that may result in quantities or concentrations in excess of those allowed in sections 5, 6 and 8,

(a) the owner or operator of the source of air pollution shall,
